Certificate of Child Psychology

兒童心理學證書

INTRODUCTION

Childhood is a period of extreme development and growth and its study is a fascinating subject.

This course will be of interest to parents who wish to enable their children through deeper understanding, and to students who wish to further their studies in Child Psychology or Child Care. This course will help you to understand how research and theory explain children's development and behavior, and how you as an adult can facilitate and enrich children's growth.

FACILITATOR

MS. JENNIFER BOVARD

She holds a Masters of Psychology from London University and a Diploma in Childcare from Manchester City College, and taught Child Development at the Open University for several years.
